

Phoneme Frames

We use phoneme frames to help us segment the different sounds in words. We put one sound into each box. We need to remember that a sound may have more than one letter in (like the digraphs and trigraphs that we learn).

This week, in school, we will be using phoneme frames along with magnetic letters, letters on stones, etc.

At home, you can use similar resources if you have them or print out (or make your own) cards like the ones below. You can draw your own phoneme frames to save printing them out.
