

Character Description for the Seagulls

The seagulls are ugly, dirty, rats of the sky. They have grey and white feathers and orange beaks. Their names are Fred, Bert and Tom. In the story they take Mr Grinling's lunch without permission. They snatch the lunch from the basket quickly and greedily because they are a brazen lot. They get such a lot of enjoyment out of stealing lunches for they are lazy and they don't find their own delicious food. They are worthless creatures and the mustard sandwiches were a good punishment for those nasty, mean and rude birds.
