

Literacy session 2

We are thinking about describing words (adjectives). Remember a describing word helps make your writing more interesting by thinking about what a noun (an object, name, animal or place) looks like or sounds like or feels like or smells like! Without adjectives our writing can sound a bit boring!

Use the pictures below and make a list of as many adjectives as you can to describe them. Add your words around the edge of the pictures. Remember to think of what it looks like, smells like, feels like, and sounds like so that you can come up with as many adjectives as possible.
