

Julia Donaldson describes the characters as “a crab”, “a purple blob” and “a brush thing”. Your challenge is to write a more interesting description of one of the characters. Look at the different shapes, features and colours that you can see and think of interesting adjectives (describing words) to use in your writing. For example, you might say that the crab has sharp claws or the anemone has wiggly tentacles. Write your description and ask someone to read it. See if they can guess which creature you were writing about.

Remember: Think it, say it, write it, read it.
