Dear Children,

I am the girl from the story you are about to read.

I'm sure that you have lots of questions about me and you are probably wondering what my story is all about.

Don't worry, when you read my book you'll find out everything you want to know. Well maybe not everything, but you'll know about what happened to the Gregg family and how it's all my fault. You will also know about my special talent and the reason why I need to try to control my temper!

I hope you enjoy reading my story. It might just make you think carefully about one or two things!

Best Wishes, from The Girl.
