

Dear Gregg Family,

I am writing to you today because I want to persuade you to stop hunting with your guns.

Although I think it might be hopeless!

Firstly, those poor ducks are completely harmless creatures. They never hurt anything or anyone, so why do you think it is alright to kill them?

Secondly, it seems completely pointless. You don't even cook the ducks or sell them afterwards. You just leave them lying there motionless and lifeless on the ground!

Those ducks are powerless and defenceless against you. They have no guns to shoot back at you and no way of protecting themselves! Do you really think that is fair?

I hope that you can stop being so thoughtless and selfish and stop doing what you are doing.

From The Girl.
