To write a poem about friendship.

Each line starts with a capital letter		Each line finishes with a comma (Use a full stop at the end of a verse)		Add friendship qualities...what makes a good friend?
Use cooking terms to help structure your poem sprinkle, dash, stir, ladle, dollop etc 				Give your poem a title, and write your name at the bottom.
Presentation Is your handwriting joined, and consistent in size?		Editing Use your purple pen to edit and improve your writing. Don't forget to check your spellings with a dictionary!

You are going to write a poem about friendship, in the form of a recipe.

Monday: Do some research and find some examples of poems about friendship. Which one do you like? Why? Write it in your best handwriting in your book. If it is very long, you could write your favourite verse.

Tuesday: You are going to write a recipe for friendship. You will need to write down some cooking terms. Then you will need to make a list of qualities that a good friend has. We have made a word bank to help you. Can you add any other words to it?

Wednesday: Now you need to put your cooking terms and friendship qualities together to make some super sentences for your friendship recipe poem.

Thursday: Edit and improve your work. Have you checked your spellings? Can you use a thesaurus to up level some of your words? Can you write out your poem in your best handwriting? You could add a border to your finished poem.

Us Two

Wherever I am, there's always Pooh,
There's always Pooh and Me.
Whatever I do, he wants to do,
"Where are you going today?" says Pooh:
"Well, that's very odd 'cos I was too.
Let's go together," says Pooh, says he.
"Let's go together," says Pooh.

"What's twice eleven?" I said to Pooh.
("Twice what?" said Pooh to Me.)
"I think it ought to be twenty-two."
"Just what I think myself," said Pooh.
"It wasn't an easy sum to do,
But that's what it is," said Pooh, said he.
"That's what it is," said Pooh.

"Let's look for dragons," I said to Pooh.
"Yes, let's," said Pooh to Me.
We crossed the river and found a few-
"Yes, those are dragons all right," said Pooh.
"As soon as I saw their beaks I knew.
That's what they are," said Pooh, said he.
"That's what they are," said Pooh.

"Let's frighten the dragons," I said to Pooh.
"That's right," said Pooh to Me.
"I'm not afraid," I said to Pooh,
And I held his paw and I shouted "Shoo!
Silly old dragons!"- and off they flew.

"I wasn't afraid," said Pooh, said he,
"I'm never afraid with you."

So wherever I am, there's always Pooh,
There's always Pooh and Me.
"What would I do?" I said to Pooh,
"If it wasn't for you," and Pooh said: "True,
It isn't much fun for One, but Two,
Can stick together, says Pooh, says he. "That's how it is," says Pooh.

The Best of Friends

The best of friends
Can change a frown,
Into a smile,
when you feel down.
The best of friends,
Will understand
Your little trials,
And lend a hand.
The best of friends,
Will always share,
Your secret dreams,
Because they care.
The best of friends,
Worth more than gold,
Give all the love,
A heart can hold.
