

English

This term we are starting a new book. It has a panda as the main character. The panda is called Fred.

Today we are going to write some questions about Fred. We know questions often start with a question word like: what, who, when, where, why and how. I have thought of some questions:

Why does Fred have a bow tie?

Where has Fred been?

What questions can you think of? Write some sentences in your books. Here is the learning objective. It can be stuck in your book or just used to remind you what we are looking for.

Parents:

- Encourage children to think of a question sentence.
- They should be able to sound out words. As long as you can read their sounding out, it doesn't matter if the word isn't perfectly spelt.
- The question words above can be copied.

LO: I can write a question sentence with a capital letter at the start and a question mark at the end.

Remember to: capital letter and question mark.

Remember to: Sound words out carefully.

Remember to: Use finger spaces.

Remember to: Write on the lines.
